WHETHER it is desirable that the lower ranks of the Civil Service in this Colony should be recruited from the ranks of Europeans or one answer. Chinese are necessary and always fill a post the interests of the service would ter. In the Gazette of Thursday, however, appears an amendment to the scheme of vice which virtually excludes Europeans. The circumstances of the case which led to the change are as follow. The Surveyor-General applied that a vacant clerkship in his office might be filled up, and in stating what kind of a man was required he said: "It is indispensable that whoever is appointed should have a good knowledge of English, a neat and clear hand-writing, and some knowledge of accounts, as he will he continually called upon to assist in checking bills and making calculations." Upon this the Governor ordered the candidates applying for the appoinment to be era-Seven-candidates presented themselves, and the examiners in their report say: "The enclosed list will show the number of marks obtained in the above subjects [English, handwriting, and arithmetic] and also the knowledge of written and spoken Chinese possessed by the candidates. An acquaintance with Chinese is not a requisite for the post, but the Board of Examiners exthey understand it is His Excellency's wish -that this should be done in all examinations minute is as follows: "Let Mr. Wong KAM of marks (counting English, handwriting, arithmetic, and Chinese), be appointed. am much obliged to the Board for the pains they have taken in conducting this examination, and I entirely approve of their having future scale as to the value of each subject, for appointments of this class, can be as follows :- English 150 marks, bandwriting 100, arithmetic, 100, Chinese 100." Of the seven candidates examined only the name of the successful one is published, and it is impossible to say how many of the favourable reports from England, had resulted in unsuccessful ones were English, Portuguese, or Chinese, but from the fact of 79 being bowever, materially affect the argument, since it is clear that the English would be equally out of the field in the competition if a the river. ducted by your Mr. A. B. Johnson alone in his capa. city of Acting Crown Solicitor. We understand this to-be a private prosecution in the strict sense of the term, that is to say, one not nitiated, conducted, or paid for by the Crown, but by a private prosecutor acting on an information whose sole imprimater is the finding of a true Bill by grand Jury. It is plain that in this case the Attorner-General is not acting as the public prosection, and that he simply signed the information as representing the functions of a Grand Jury. The fact that he declined to direct the Registrar to summon a pocial Jury shows this clearly. We therefore trust that you will reply to our letter in the allemative and without any qualification. that Mr. Gladstone, Lord Granville, and Lord Hartington will have to agree together on the formation of a Cabinet. Including the Home Rule vote, they will have a majority of 10 Should the Home Rulers gainto the same lothly

The ory on all sides is that Mr. Gladstone is virtually the Dictator, and the fear is that he will be guided by his vindictive temper and his. indigment impotuosity, reversing as much as possible the foreign policy of Lord Besconsfield and causing deep injuiry to our prestige and our interests. His proclivities are well known. He would displace the Turk in Europe by the Greek. He would promote Italian ascendency on the Balkan peninsula to the prejudice of Austria, and would be less energatio in ourbing Russia. I very much doubt the averment of Mr. Gladstone's dictatorship. Lord Grouville and Lord Hartington stand pledged to pursue and carry out Lord Beaconsfield's policy-objecting only to the means employed. If Mr. Gladstone should thecefore insist upon carrying out any of his eactionary ideas, Lords Granville and Hartington would certainly secode and would carry with them the whole rank and file of the Whigs and moderate Liberals, If ninety of the existing majority "went over," Mr. Gladstone would fall, even of every Home Ruler supported him. I do not think there is any danger of this, as the present majority Liberal it has but one controverted, although its natural consequence to obtain a "Repeal of the Union," and let-it also be supposed that the Republicans will do the same to obtain "Universal Suffrage." Now if the Republicans can command thirty votes (and they can command many more than that number) these two factions can by a combination (than which nothing is more probable) overturn the Government the first time their foreign policy is challenged. This may seem startling, but it is true. The Liberals have only together If therefore 30 Republicans go over, their minority would be two. I do not mean to say that either repeal of the union or universal In the interval since last mosting the following firms | suffrage stand any chance of being carried; but I do say that to prevent the consummation I have indicated, the Liberal Ministry may be coerced into the adoption of measures which the country

> Again, the backbone and marrow of the Liberal party is the Nonconformist element. This section is bitterly opposed to the abominable abuses of the Church of England. Some insist on its lisestablishment and others on its reform. In either case their arguments are so strong that they gather strength daily. Now Mr. Gladstone and Lord Selberns (who is sure to be the Lord Chancellor in the coming administration) are decidedly High Churchmen, and moreover their respective wives are High Churchwomen, Under such circumstances, it is bardly necessary to dwell upon the irroconcilable fissure which must BUSSIA AND CHINA. Regarding the dispute between Russia and China, it is folly to place the smallest confidence on any statement which either of these subtle, unscrupulous powers may choose to make intelligence devoted to the subject as simple bait of deception. I think that Russia, having no case, cannot afford the exposure which the event must fasten upon her. Surely she cannot be allowed to carry on her aggressive game on the borders of Germany and Austria, in the Balkan Peninsula, in Asia Minor, in Central Asia, in Afghanistan, in Persia, and in China all at the same time. I do not look upon the Czar as by any means a vir sipit, nor do I think he is as amenable to advice as he should be. He seems to be immured in the Winter Palace. His wife and his Chancellor are both on their death beds. and he himself is in constant fear of assassingtion. He has been compelled to give up the reins of the executive power, and as for his legislative functions, they have fallen beneath contempt .. If he were worthy of pity, he would deserve to be pitied, but if public opinion be the tower of the position of a reed shaken by the wind. To deal with nobles, scholars, and gentlemen like him, is the course which should fittingly be relegated to the Sovereigns of Dahomey and felons simply because they differ in opinion with

In my opinion the Czar has no idea of going to war with China. He longs for Constantinople and has no idea of being Beaconsfielded out of it until he sees how Mr. Gladstone's cat jumps. He wants all his resources in Europe and Asia Minor. China is too far off and much too susceptible of British interference. I think he will give up Kuldia for money, which, with the assistance of Mr. Hart and Sir Thomas Wade, can easily be senegged out of British trade. As for the ten or fifteen men-of-war which have been equipped at Cronstadt for service in China. the value of an Association in London for the I fancy the augmentation of the cruising fleet against British commerce is alone intended. The idea of this praising fleet is very strong in Russia. It is hoped that the presence of a large fleet of cruisers in various parts of the world will cause the British Government to dread a war. I should hope that this idea smacks heavily of verdure, but certainly if it can be carried out. Hongkong must look out for squalls. I confess I do not like the idea of a Gladstone Administration: Economy in or out of sesson is one of their watchwords. It seems to me, under the Beaconsfield Administration, that our army and navy, although on a peace footing, were up to any work that might be required of them. To sacrifice this state of efficiency for the sake of saving a half penny in the income-tax would indeed be a lamentable waste of economy

Tradespeople and the neighbours will think you a rich man if you put up such extravagant article." Wilkins Exactly, my boy, it's only a blind. There are a few simple-minded ones among the Dutch Boers of South Africs. One of them a short time back suffered himself-to be convinced that a ready-reckoner holds good only for a single year, like an almanack. Having to adjust accounts with a Jew wool-stapler, the latter made a mistake in accounts very much to his own advantage. The Boer thereupon produced a ready-reckener, and pointed out the blunder. But the Israelite was not to be beaten. "Oh that's a ready-reckoner of last year's date," was his reply "it's all wrong for this year." And the Boar, believing the statement, gave up the point, and was duly victimized.

IMPERIAL QUARTO. NGLISH AND CHINESE DICTIONARY WITH THE PUNTI AND MANDABIN: PRONUNCIATION.

Daily Press Office, Hongkong. For comprehensiveness and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Chinese have to late years been compelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy SPIRIT OF THE ACE, British bark, Williams .- and in science generally, which the rapid advance. of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises WM. H. MARCY, American ship, Marcy.-Rus. for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti pronunciations are given, the accents being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a vast economy of space, schieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those wast margins and vacant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications.

To illustrate the vast scope of the work, the following facts are submitted for consideration :-Chalmers Vocabulary contains about 16,000 Chinese characters, and Medhurst's English and Chinese Dictionary about 100,000, whilst this work contains more than 50,000 English words, and upwards of 600,000 Chinese characters. Again, despite all the grammars and other elementary works as yet published, the student of this difficult language absolutely requires examples to display the various appli-cations and equivalents of different words which have one general meaning. Of these examples but henceforth it will be prepared to make good this work contains more than five times as the contents of such correspondence lost while many as any other Dictionary hitherto published.

For practical purposes the arrangement of the work is so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who anderstand nothing but Chinese. In this respect the work will be found indispensable to all Europeans residing in China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted To parties resident in England and interested in China it cannot but be invaluable occasion-
